Graz, April 2008

Dear Colleague,

We are writing to you on behalf of the ADD LIFE Project Consortium with an invitation to attend the Symposium

Inter-generational Learning in Europe: Partnerships, Policies and Good Practice to be held on Friday, 30 and Saturday, 31 May 2008 at the University of Graz, Austria.

The focus of this open Symposium is on discussing current approaches, experiences and good practice in inter-generational learning in a Higher Education context in Europe. It takes place as a final major dissemination and valorisation event of the SOCRATES Grundtvig Project "ADD LIFE: ADDing quality to LIFE through inter-generational learning via universities" (2006-2008). It is open to participants from a variety of backgrounds, specifically professionals in Lifelong Learning and Learning in Later Life and tutors in Higher Education Institutions, who would like to share the experience and outcomes of the project. Representatives of stakeholder groups such as policy makers and administrative staff of public institutions are also most welcome. The language of the Symposium is English.

We kindly ask you in the meantime to please forward the information about the Symposium to your colleagues. Thank you.

We look forward to seeing you in Graz in May.

Yours sincerely,
