NEW ASPECTS OF GLOBAL DEVELOPMENT STRATEGIES:

FROM MDG TO SDG

What is the conference about?

The conference is based on the long-time research cooperation in the context of the NOPOOR project and is organized by OIKODROM – The Vienna Institute for Urban Sustainability with support of the BMWFW (the Austrian Ministry for Science, Research and Economy).

The Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), as follow-up of the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) is not only through its denotation focusing on sustainability. The debate about sustainability is made global and becomes the foundation for future development goals. The debate about the newly formulated SDGs is providing a basis to re-think various aspects of global development strategies in terms of their contribution to sustainability.

What's the goal of the conference?

The main objective of the conference is to bring together different stakeholders in order to initiate a critical exchange of knowledge and experience between science, politics, research and civil society. Both the panel and audience should be as inter-generational, inter-cultural and international as possible.

Is it the right session for me?

Whether you are a student, political decision maker, a development worker or representative of NGO or IGO there are several topics that will be addressed. After some impulse talks about development-related topics from a scientific perspective, there will follow a "Brainstorming Session" to facilitate a discussion at different tables. We decided to discuss following topics (among others):

- Sustainability in development aid
- Inequalities in the global North and South
- Sustainable cities approach
- Sustainable economic growth (sharing economy)
